

CAPTURING THE SPOKEN WORD

An Introductory Oral History Workshop, hosted by the Center for Oral and Public History at California State University, Fullerton

Dr. Natalie Fousekis is Director of the Center for Oral and Public History. She has been engaged in oral history work for over twenty years — conducting dozens of interviews, teaching oral history methodology to undergraduate and graduate students, and coordinating and directing a number of oral history projects. Her latest oral history project “Women, Politics, and Activism Since Suffrage” is currently funded by the John Randolph Haynes and Dora Haynes Foundation. Dr. Fousekis is the author of the book, Demanding Child Care: Women’s Activism and the Politics of Welfare, 1940-1971 (University of Illinois Press, 2011).

Dr. Cora Granata is Director of the European Studies Program and Associate Director of the Center for Oral and Public History. She is co-editor of The Human Tradition in Modern Europe (Rowman & Littlefield, 2008), and is finishing her next book, Celebration and Suspicion: Jews and Sorbs in the German Democratic Republic. She has been engaged with oral history since 1998, conducting dozens of oral histories in the U.S. and Germany. She has published award-winning research on cultural minorities in Germany and on the problem of nostalgia in oral history. She directed the “From Hitler’s Europe to the Golden State” Oral History Project at COPH.

RSVP:

- Email: coph@fullerton.edu
- Or call (657) 278-3580
- Or click the following link:
<https://goo.gl/forms/3VWSsvyFqUx24Tky2>

Sept. 29, 2018

*Pollak Library South, Room 360
CSU Fullerton Main Campus*

- Cost: FREE (with an optional lunch for $12)
- This workshop is IDEAL for students and independent researchers seeking to learn about the preparation, recording, transcription, and archival organization of oral histories.
- Instruction from 10:30 am - 2:30 pm
- Don’t miss out! With only 25 slots available, enrollment is sure to fill up quickly.